Dear Jesus,

I would like to call your attention to a special webinar that Global Compact Network USA will be hosting on Tuesday, March 2 at 1:00 PM EST on Givitas – our new networking and collaboration tool.

Givitas is designed to make it fast and easy for you to ask for help from and to offer help and advice to others on topics related to corporate sustainability and implementing the Ten Principles and the SDGs. While business-led, the UN Global Compact is very much multi-stakeholder, and we therefore are pleased to be able to provide our Givitas platform to our non-business members, such as Tecana American University, to engage with companies and other non-business members of the UNGC in an effectively and easy manner. The Network is pleased to offer this additional resource to its members for free and we sincerely hope that you will use it to learn from each other on best practices and general guidance.

We would be thrilled if you or one of your colleagues at Tecana American University joined us on March 2 to learn more about this new tool and how to maximize its value for your organization.

We hope to see you soon. In the meantime, please do not hesitate to contact us with questions or comments.
